Overview of Workforce Distribution

Our global workforce is distributed across seven offices in five different countries. The United States hosts three of these offices (Boston, NYC, San Francisco), accounting for a significant portion of our global presence. San Francisco stands out with the largest team of 6 employees, indicating a key operational hub. Paris, France, also maintains a substantial team of 5 employees. Other offices, including Sydney (Australia), Tokyo (Japan), London (UK), Boston (USA), and NYC (USA), each have smaller teams ranging from 2 to 4 employees. This distribution suggests a strategy of having both larger regional centers and smaller, strategically located teams to cover various markets.
